From the Popes

To be a good father, the first requirement is to be present in the family. To be close to his wife, to share in everything, joy and pain, burdens and hopes. And to be close to the children as they grow: when they play and when they make efforts, when they are carefree and when they are distressed, when they dare and when they are afraid, when they make missteps and when they return to the right path. A father must always be present, but being present is not the same as controlling. Fathers who seek to control end up stifling their children; they do not let them grow. ~ Pope Francis

Yes, the civilization of love is possible; it is not a utopia.
But it is only possible by a constant and ready reference to the "Father from whom all fatherhood and motherhood on earth is named," from whom every human family comes. ~ Saint John Paul II

Looking ahead: Father Frank will be away on June 24th and 25th to attend a seminar on marriage and the family in Washington, DC.

Is God Like Daddy?

Think of a four-year-old coming home one Sunday after a lesson that taught about God as our Heavenly Father.
Sound theology would quickly note that God is neither male nor female, but youngsters do not concern themselves with theological niceties. A four-year-old hears "Father;" the only father he knows anything about is the one that lives with him and says, "Pass the biscuits, please;" so he asks..."Is God like Daddy Wow! What a heavy load! But a good load to consider on Fathers' Day...and a good one to consider when we realize that what Daddy is can become a role model for our children's concept of God. David E. Leininger

Father's Day: By Msgr. Eugene A. Chromoga

When we speak of a "vocation", we usually think of a "calling" to the religious life.... to become a priest. But this is not -so! Christ calls each person to follow him in a choice of different states of life. This includes not only the religious life, but also to the married life or the single state.
Regardless of our calling, we are to be — workers and witnesses for Christ. Fatherhood is a vocation. In fact, God calls most men to this vocation. When a man accepts marriage and parenthood, he assumes not only its joy and pleasures, but also its responsibilities. God expects a father to cooperate with Him. This means a father accepts the obligation to teach his children Christ's way.... the way of love and good example, One of the best gifts a father can give his children is to give himself... his time and love. These are needed in order that children grow up into well-balanced adults. To give a good Christian family atmosphere, it is necessary that spiritual leadership comes from both father and mother.
On this Father's Day, express your gratitude to your father. Assure him of your prayers and thanks for having assumed and fulfilled his important role according to God's plan. If your father is already deceased, pray that God may have mercy on his soul and grant him a blessed repose and render eternal his memory.

One must not think that a person who is suffering is not praying. He is offering up his sufferings to God, and many a time he is praying much more truly than one who goes away by himself and meditates his head off, and, if he has squeezed out a few tears, thinks that is prayer.
