Catholic Quotes

"We cherish true freedom, not as the license to do whatever we want, but the liberty to do what we ought." Cardinal Timothy Dolan

"All problems are reducible to personal problems. If you solve those, you automatically take care of community problems." Archbishop Phillip Hannan

"The denial of personal guilt makes men ready to surrender their liberty. Better it is for a man to realize he has evil tendencies which must be fought and combated in order that his higher self may emerge." Archbishop Fulton Sheen

"The greatest challenge of the day is: how to bring about a revolution of the heart, a revolution which has to start with each one of us." Dorothy Day

"You don't think your way into a new kind of living. You live your way into a new kind of thinking." Fr. Henri Nouwen

"Let us not hear words of contempt or condone, but only words of love and mercy that invite us to conversion." Pope Francis

The Scripture readings for next week (Eighth Sunday after Pentecost) are: 1 Corinthians 1:10-18 & Matthew 14:14-22

I appeal to you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you agree and that there be no dissensions among you, but that you be united in the same mind and the same judgment....

For the word of the cross is folly to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God.

Our parish family offers condolences to James Artim and the Artim family. James' son Jason fell asleep in the Lord this past week and will be buried from our church next Saturday, July 29 at 10:00 AM.

May his memory be eternal!

Of a wandering brother who lacked discretion, being puffed up with spiritual pride.

A certain wandering brother came to the monastery of the abbot Silvanus. He saw the brethren working, and rebuked them, saying, "Why do ye labor for the meat which perishes? Mary chose the good part." Then said the abbot Silvanus to his disciple Zacharias, "Give this brother a book to read and put him into an empty cell." At the ninth hour, the brother looked out and gazed along the path to see if any man was coming to call him to a meal. After a while he went to Silvanus, and said, "Do not the brethren eat to-day?" The abbot confessed that they had already eaten. Then said the brother, "Why did you not send to call me?" Silvanus answered him, "You are a spiritual man. You have surely no need of such food as we eat. We, indeed, are but carnal; we must eat. We labor, but you have chosen the good part. You read all day. and have no wish to receive carnal food."
